

DOUBLE-TOP! -THE COLOUR WORKS IS TOP AGAIN

The Colour Works has been recognised as the top training and development company in the UK for the second successive year in relations to sales. At a prestigious event held at the Hilton Hotel Docklands, Giles Miskin, Managing Director was delighted to receive the award from Insights Learning & Development, producers of the fastest growing profiling tool in Europe. The Colour Works beat over 120 other companies to take the title.

Giles Miskin said, "We are absolutely delighted that the hard work and effort that has been put in to making The Colour Works a valued and respected brand in the training and development world has continued reaping rewards. We have a solid portfolio of development programmes that are achieving excellent results for our clients. We now have 20 experienced facilitators throughout the UK, each specialising in different sectors and areas of delivery. Whether it is a leadership or management programme, team development, change, sales or coaching, we have the right programmes and right facilitators to achieve the results our clients need."

Ann Sankey, Business Development Director commented, "Our innovative programmes have seen our client base grow considerably. At the same time we continue to provide our existing customers with long-term on-going support. We take great pride in the 93% "excellent" feedback rating from those who have been on our learning programmes. In addition we are increasingly in demand as dynamic, engaging and influential keynote speakers at conferences throughout the UK and Europe."

The Colour Works has its Head Office in Dorset and works throughout the UK and abroad delivering highly-regarded development programmes and coaching to clients across the public, private and charitable sectors. Current clients include Weymouth & Portland Borough Council, Dean & Dyball, TDSi, Ellis Jones & Ergonomics and at a national level, Barclays, Coca Cola, HMRC, L'Oreal, Wales Audit Office.
