

A set of four coloured cards describing the 'good day' behaviours. Designed to introduce the colour energies, these can be used by delegates to work out their order of preference.